

Aiseesoft Slideshow Creator

The slideshow maker app is very easy to use, and professional looks are supplied through its design. Simply drop pictures and video into the window, then adjust the background before creating. A slideshow is often used to relay a message, so if you are working on a mobile device, having a stable slideshow is important. One thing I didn't like, though, is the fact that Aiseesoft Slideshow Creator doesn't have a viewer included. Another quibble that I have is that it is extremely easy to lose control of the slideshow when you exit the app. Furthermore, although the free version does support making photo collages and the power to zoom and rotate pictures, its basic features are cut down quite a bit. Aiseesoft Slideshow Creator is free with in-app purchases. I like the clean interface, it is easy to find the features you need to create a great slideshow. I particularly enjoy the step by step process when adding photos. I wish there was an option to add a soundtrack to the slideshow though. It would be nice to be able to upload my own music. This app is meant to be used to showcase your photos on social media, not to add music to it and have it play in the background. I really enjoyed using this app to create picture collages. The photo collages are super easy to add photos and layout. This app really lets you get creative and try out a bunch of different collage layouts.

I made a lot of collages, but I would not use this app for creating a simple slideshow. It is not a simple slideshow. It is a slideshow with lots of features, not an easy slideshow. The on screen keyboard is pretty basic, you have no idea what you are typing. I was having trouble inputting my information into the form. I couldn't get the app to recognize my words/passwords, or even my phone number. It did not properly import any of the information I entered. I had to re-create it, inputting it all over again. The app also has a few issues with photo overlay, auto-rotating, mis-aligning, etc. When I did get the app to properly import my information into the form, it took me approximately 5 attempts before it worked. It is extremely inefficient and annoying to have to keep re-entering your information. One thing I didn't like is that the app is a little complicated to navigate. I found it confusing to understand what each option was used for, or for what
