You can hide these interface elements for efficient use of the workspace. FIGURE 12-3: The interface shows icons for the tools and the Color panel. The steps are simple: 1. Load an image into the top portion of the workspace. After you load an image into the workspace, you have the option of setting the background color for the workspace. You can also add text and use the toolbar to adjust your image view and size. The Make Adjustments tool in the toolbox lets you apply camera corrections, flatten the image, and perform other image-editing tasks. You can add layers on top of the image by clicking the arrow to the left of the Layers thumbnail. Every layer has its own area of transparency, which you can change by dragging the bar to the right of the layer thumbnail (see Figure 12-3). Moving a thumbnail to a new area reveals more transparency as you drag the thumbnail. You can also specify the background color for the layer by

NEW YORK (AP) — The mayor of New York City has apologized for an anti-Semitic tweet made by a staffer he now says is no longer in his employ. Christopher Ward tweeted an anti-Semitic joke about Jesus and money on Wednesday at a fan who had criticized him on social media. Mayor Bill de Blasio later told a Jewish radio station he was "mortified" and said Ward's tweet was not reflective of who he is. Ward was hired in 2016 to do advance and voter protection work on the mayor's campaign. According to The New York Times, City Hall said Ward was no longer with the mayor's campaign and two other aides who were also supporters of the mayor. Ørskog Ørskog is a former municipality in Møre og Romsdal county, Norway. It was part of the Molde og Valle municipal council. The administrative centre of the municipality was the village of Ytre Ørskog. The municipality of Ørskog was established on 1 January 1838 (see formannskapsdistrikt). It was one of the nine municipalities in Ørskog og Voss county until it was merged with all other municipalities in Møre og Romsdal county to form the present-day municipality of Møre og Romsdal on 1 January 2020. General information Name The Old Norse form of the name was Orská (probably Orskja). The name comes from the Old Norse words ør (ear) and ska (grass) and was later on also spelled Oirska. The meaning of the name is "the meadow where the grass is growing". Coat-of-arms The coat-of-arms is from modern times. They were granted on 3 November 1982. The arms show three silver chevrons on a red background. This is in accordance with the three villages in the municipality. Ytre Ørskog is the largest and has had by far the longest history. Parishes The parish of Ørskog was established on 1 January 1838 (see formannskapsdistrikt). It encompassed the area of Ørskog, Edsvik, and Vigfussbu. Vigfussbu is located in Vestnes Municipality, and Edsvik is located in Skånevik Municipality in Vaksdal. In 1838, the parish had an area of 1,104.0 square kilometres. The municipality of Ørskog had a population of 2,791 in 1843, and the town of Molde had 2,185 residents.
