What is the best way to select their values using jQuery.val()? I have the following code: $(document).ready(function () { $("#dd1").val(arr1); $("#dd2").val(arr2); $("#dd3").val(arr3); }); And the HTML: -- Option 1 Option 2 I have another three select fields in this form with identical HTML. A: In this case, your best bet is to directly bind the values to the DOM element. var arr = ["1", "2"]; $(document).ready(function () { $("#dd1").val(arr[0]); $("#dd2").
