How to link the images into one text file? i got csv file. A: I suggest you use: `awk '{print > "temp.txt"}' awk '!seen[$0]++' file1` Then you can read the temp.txt: `awk -f temp.awk file1` with temp.awk: `NR==1 { # assumes first file is file1 # you could omit the header line if your file1 always contains the header print $0 > "temp.txt" next } { # handle every other line print } { # add the current line to the list of seen lines if(!seen[$0]) { seen[$0] = 1 print $0 } }` To delete all files except those listed in the file1: `awk -f temp.awk file1 file2 file3... fileN > targetFile rm -f temp.*` Trajectories of disability following traumatic brain injury: a one-year follow-up study. There are relatively few studies that have followed patients after traumatic brain injury (TBI) from the immediate to the longer term. The present study assessed the relationship of self-reported disability to neuropsychological deficits, depression, and subjective well-being in a sample of 45 patients with TBI. The patients were assessed at discharge from acute-care units and 12 months later, and each participant completed six measures (five questionnaires) at those two time points. A repeated measures design was used for all analyses. The results showed a significant association of self-reported disability with several measures of cognition and depression, but not with life satisfaction. Implications for future research are discussed.Q: Can not get a valid cursor from SimpleCursorAdapter I am having a problem trying to extract a specific row from a database. In a second step, I deploy the powershell script again on the server as is and use `Get-AzureMFA -ApplicationId "" -ShowTableHeaders -ShowDetailed = $true`. The result is all the required values are filled in the table and the password looks like this Password: I can see that the password is in correct format, but when I create a VM of windows 8, it asks for the password which I set to `` just for testing, but the password looks like this Password: the password I set is not used. Any idea why this is happening? I am using the same powershell script for other applications just with different ApplicationId and the password works correctly for those applications. Are there any known issues with Azure MFA and windows 8? EDIT: I tried the same thing in a VM which is running a linux Ubuntu and it asks the correct password and I also get the correct values when I try to check the MFA table. A: Windows 10 MFA can be enabled in different ways MFA added to application/service

How to enable MFA support using GUI -Enable- WindowsOptionalFeature command How to enable MFA using PowerShell -Enable-WindowsOptionalFeature (for Windows 7/8) The first way for example is using PowerShell script Enable-MFA.exe. For Windows 10 you should set MFA option as part of Enable-WindowsOptionalFeature command -Enable-WindowsOptionalFeature -MFAType Custom or MFA after you call the script. Here is the script and some additional setting you can change, for example to use Free MFA rather than 3FA: Enable-MFA -Force Respecting Our War Dead The number of Americans killed in the Vietnam War was the greatest loss of life in a single action in American history up to that time. The U.S. Armed Forces suffered approximately 58,127 killed in action and another 2,250,000 non-battle deaths (e.g., the result of gunshot wounds, exposure, and accidents in the field) as a result of the Vietnam War. In addition, the conflict claimed the lives of some 1,181,000 Vietnamese civilians, making this Vietnam War the second most deadly war in terms of civilian deaths, behind only World War II.
